D. M. Kullmann

Retinal glymphatic system: an explanation for transient retinal layer volume changes? A. Petzold

Defining retinal vasculopathy with cerebral leukoencephalopathy and systemic manifestations. A. Charidimou

Concordance between interictal MEG and stereo-EEG predicts seizure freedom after epilepsy surgery. J. Bear and H. Kirsch

Why the left posterior inferior temporal lobe is needed for word finding. T. M. H. Hope and C. J. Price

Retinal vasculopathy with cerebral leukoencephalopathy and systemic manifestations. A. Charidimou

TDP-43 stage, mixed pathologies, and clinical Alzheimer's-type dementia. B. D. James, R. S. Wilson, P. A. Boyle, et al.

Dorsal column

Guillain-Barré syndrome in the 100 years since its description by Guillain, Barré and Strohl. B. C. Hughes, D. R. Cemmlelith and H. J. Willson

Brain network analysis: a practical tutorial. D. S. Bassett

Do we still need positron emission tomography for early Alzheimer’s disease diagnosis? P. Lewczuk and J. Kornhuber

Reply: Do we still need positron emission tomography for early Alzheimer’s disease diagnosis? S. Palmqvist, N. Mattsson, and G. Fratianne

Reply: The underestimated effect of normobaric hyperoxia on cerebral blood flow and its relationship to neuroprotection. J.-C. Baron

ARID1B mutations are the major genetic cause of corpus callosum anomalies in patients with intellectual disability. C. Mignot, M.-L. Moutard, A. Rastetter, et al.

Corrigendum